CONNECT Info Night

CONNECT is organizing another information night. It will take the form of a testimony, update report from the last event and also a time of prayer for CONNECT.

It will be held tomorrow night, Monday 13th March at 7.30pm at 1st Dromara Presbyterian Church.

Please plan to attend. We would love to see as many people there as possible.

Fruitfulness on the Frontline

Every follower of Jesus has a “frontline”, a place where we live much of our lives for God. For you, your frontline may be where you live; at school, college, or university; in work; with your family and friends. In truth, we all have lots of frontlines. To help us live faithfully for Jesus on our frontlines, we are running a really practical course on Sunday evenings. Our next session is next Sunday, 19th March. Tea will be served from 6:15pm, starting at 6:30pm in 2nd Dromara hall. There will be Bible teaching and discussion, as we encourage one another to live for Jesus in our daily lives. What extraordinary things might happen in our area, our schools, workplaces and amongst our families, when God’s people are fruitful for Him, where He has placed us. This is an excellent course, which we hope many will come along to and benefit from.

PCI Conference – “As Others See Us”

How do people who have come to live here, in Ireland, view us? What do they notice about our faith and culture? You are invited to participate in a PCI Conference on Thursday morning 30th March, 10am to 1pm. It is free of charge and a light lunch will be provided at 1pm, so places must be booked by Friday 24th March – 028 9041 7263. The Conference is being organised by the PCI’s Council for Global Mission’s Leadership Development Committee. Jacob Thomas, lecturer at Belfast Bible College & originally from India will share his observations about our faith expression and you will have the opportunity to discuss and respond to all the contributions.
